	Sustainability (general)	1	2
1	I can name 3 characteristics of sustainability.
2	I can distinguish between ecological, economic and social sustainability.
3	I can name three challenges in relation to sustainability.
4	I can describe three good practical examples of sustainability.
5	I know three organisations that deal with the topic of sustainability.

	Sustainability (personal)	1	2
1	I am involved in an environmental organisation or carry out my own small environmental projects.
2	It is important to me that I only consume eco-certified products.
3	It is important to me that my ecological footprint is small.
4	When buying clothes, I pay attention to the country of origin and/or material composition.
5	I donate to charitable or environmental projects.

	Enterprises (general)	1	2
1	I can name at least three characteristics of a sustainable company.
2	I know at least three companies that offer sustainable products.
3	I know of at least three industries that have the greatest negative impact on the environment.
4	I know at least three companies and their projects that are socially committed.
5	I know of three corporate scandals that relate to social and/or ecological and/or economic sustainability.

	Enterprises (personal)	1	2
1	It is important to me that a company is committed to social projects beyond its core activities.
2	It is important to me that a company's supply chains are transparent and traceable.
3	It is important to me that I only buy local products.
4	I am also prepared to pay more money for organic quality.
5	I would make greenwashing a criminal offence, as it deceives and defrauds customers. Greenwashing, is the attempt by organisations to give themselves a "green" or "sustainable" image, particularly through communication and marketing measures, without actually systematically implementing corresponding, sustainability-oriented activities in their operational business.
